HELPING EMPLOYERS AND EMPLOYEES

Highly trained employees give Ventura County companies a competitive edge in a difficult economy. Companies can access the necessary training resources for new hires or retraining existing employees through the Economic Development Collaborative-Ventura County and its partner organizations:

- Small Business Development Center
- Ventura County Workforce Investment Board
- Ventura County Community College District

WORKING SMARTER, WORKING BETTER

Workforce training concentrates on continuous business improvement, enhanced operational efficiencies and increased lean operations to make businesses more productive and competitive. Within the program, companies can access employee training to increase existing workers' skills and re-train workers. Assistance also is provided for new workers' on-the-job training.

MORE ABOUT WHAT WE DO

A regional public/private economic development organization, EDC-VC works to maintain the county's economic health and vitality, delivering programs that promote jobs and economic growth, and raise overall productivity and incomes.

The EDC-VC's vision is to maintain a healthy Ventura County economy through collaboration, education and training as a means to create and sustain quality jobs and improve wealth, thus enhancing the standard of living and quality of life throughout Ventura County.

FAQ: WHAT EMPLOYERS WANT TO KNOW

Can EDC-VC help me assess the training my employees may need?

Yes! Get free consulting services to identify growth areas and staff training needs. Expert advisors then connect employers with low- or no-cost training programs.

Can I get help paying for my employees' training?

Yes! For qualifying companies, EDC-VC provides access to funding and programs such as subsidized wages for employees in a training program.

How does training help my company and my employees?

Companies whose employees participate in training programs tend to have less turnover. Employees grow professionally and can take on more responsibility, helping companies increase revenue through diversification or specialization. The ripple effect of these benefits positively impacts the regional economy.
